CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Phipps Sells Out Citrus Port Mayaca

A purchase agreement filed in Martin County clerk's office confirmed rumors of the sale of the Phipps citrus interests at Port Mayaca with a state price of $3,150,000. The Phipps interests operate as Bessemer Properties, Inc., at Port Mayaca.

Vice President Roy H. Hawkins signed for Bessemer Properties and John A. Hanley as trustee for the purchasers. Closing date was specified as on or before April 22 at the Miami office of Scott, McCarthy, Preston and Steel.

The Port Mayaca groves are among the oldest in Martin County and the scientific management by Paul M. Hoenshel, Hawkins, Paul R. Scott and present manager Thomas Gartland have contributed much to the knowledge of citrus in this area.

Included in the sale are 2,755 acres of grove, loaded with fruit, 6,000 seedling on order and agreement to deliver the crop to the Tree-Sweet Plant.

Names among those interested are Ann Gray, Michael Klenz, Hyman L. Rosenfeld, Ben Hill Griffin, Inc.; Hanley as trustee and his wife acting individually in the deal.

Nazi Party Is Not Wanted In County

Palm Beach County Commissioners this week took speedy action in an attempt to block reported efforts to make this county headquarters for the Nazi Party of America.

News reports over the weekend reported the organization was planning on establishing a headquarters in West Palm Beach.

Commissioner Lake Lytal sponsored a board resolution saying the commission objected to everything the organization stands for;

objects to any proposed establishment of a headquarters here and further "to ask law enforcement agencies to make it as uncomfortable as possible for the so-called Nazi group in the hope they will move on."

The commission action brought immediate response from Chester Sims, who described himself as a citizen "most concerned over these developments by the organization" and Rabbi Irving Cohen, who termed the weekend reports concerning the Nazi group as an "invasion of a completely unwarranted group."

Mental Health Is Given Co. Boost

In support of the Mental Health Association drive to raise a building fund, the county commission this week adopted a proclamation setting the month of April as Mental Health Association Month.

Request for the proclamation was made by Rabbi Irving Cohen, who heads the Palm Beach County Mental Health Association. He said his group is relying on voluntary contributions to finance construction of a new association headquarters to be built on land made available by the County Commission.

In addition to adopting the proclamation, the commission urged residents of the county to make whatever contribution possible to help the cause.

In another action, the commission granted the association permission to erect a sign on the court house lawn, calling attention to the drive.

A second proclamation adopted by the commission set April 28th as James Fogelman Day throughout the country. This is a day of a county-wide, barbecue to raise funds for Fogelman's family. Fogelman, a deputy sheriff, was fatally injured recently in an auto accident while on an emergency mission.

A program on hair styling and care of the skin was presented at the meeting of the Canal Point-Pahokee Home Demonstration Club held at the Canal Point Community Building, April 9, with the president, Mrs. Elmer Maxson, presiding over the business session.

"Every Age Can Be Beautiful" was the topic of the talk given by Anna Sims, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, on skin care and the use of cosmetics. She stated that since a woman spends 24 hours each day growing older why not spend 10 to 30 minutes of the day maintaining a youthful look. She gave practical ways of using masks and creams, and suggested the use of milk of magnesia as a cheap but effective mask.

Mrs. Madeline Gough of the Glamour by Grace Beauty Salon, presented a program on the care and styling of hair for adults and for children. She stressed that a good haircut is most important and that the hair should be styled according to the shape of the face. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. W. E. McCall and Mrs. Roland Kahle.

Introduced as guests were Mrs. Henry Moore, Mrs. J. C. Stapler, Mrs. Mantova, Mrs. Raymond Gordon and Mrs. Edwin Todd.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The Palm Beach County Commission has accepted an invitation from this area's "Committee of 100" to spearhead plans for a county-wide exhibit at the coming world fair in New York.

Commission Chairman E. F. Van Kessel, who was named as the board's liaison with the world fair organization, said at a recent meeting of the committee, the county board was named as the logical group to take over arrangements for the exhibit.

The move, Chairman Van Kessel said, will be coordinated with Chamber of Commerce groups and with civic clubs and other organizations throughout the county.

The exhibit will be on display for two six month periods when the fair is in operation. It starts in April, 1964.

The commission agreed that the first step is to determine costs of the exhibit and to find out how the money is to be raised. Fixed fee for exhibit space is $25,000 for the two year period, with other expenses such as operating personnel, in addition to the rental.

In other actions Monday, the commission:

Approved a number of minor changes to the county's building code.

Learned that the City of West Palm Beach has taken over maintenance of 12th Street extension—a road built by the county.

Received a letter from the Belle Glade city commission, objecting to a recent change in operating hours for liquor establishments in the Glades.

Referred to the county parks department and mosquito control unit, a request from the Ski Club of the Palm Beaches, that weeds be cleared from a stub canal near International Airport.

Approved a plan advance by Gov. Farris Bryant for development of additional recreational areas in the state.

Heard that Palm Beach International Airport had received a certificate from the Southeast Airport Managers Association, pointing up the air safety record at the county's airport.

Heard that bids will be received for construction of a new wing at the county hospital on May 31—two weeks earlier than had been planned.

Heard that bids will be received June 3 for improvements of runways and taxi strips at International Airport—also that work had started on an approach lighting system at the airport, a project to cost $200,000.

Florida Nurses Will Be Welcomed

Robert Lee, Personnel Manager of Sugar Cane Growers Corporation and Pres. of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, will greet the Florida Nurses Association, District 9 at the Belle Glade Health Center Building, 1024 N. W. Ave. D, Belle Glade, Thursday, April 18, 8:30 p. m.

The Public Health Section is arranging for a motorcade to form at the Health and Welfare Building, 826 Evernia Street, West Palm Beach at 5 p. m. A box supper will be served at 8:30 p. m. in Belle Glade and there General Assembly will be at 7:30.

Mr. Lee will be discussing the "Development of the Glades Area with emphasis on the Sugar Mill Industry" and the Public Health Section hopes that all nurses in the Glades area will attend. Plan to come for the evening and call your reservation in to Wy 6-5219 or 6-5210 for a box supper at $1.00 by Monday, April 15 or the Nurses Registry in West Palm Beach TE 3-4693.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

-JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration
as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Forest Hill Leads Base Ball League

Unbeaten and unscorched Forest Hill suddenly has broken out from the pack and unless somebody does some solving of the superb Falcon pitching and soon there shortly will be no race left to the Suncoast Conference's 13th baseball season.

While the leaders continued their winning ways in the past week, runup Riviera Beach came a cropper and surprising Belle Glade has pulled into the runnerup position. Forest Hill ended Riviera's unbeaten status with a nonconverting 7-5 decision Tuesday, and then in league play Friday the Falcons blanked guest Ft. Pierce 4-0 and Belle Glade drubbed visiting Riviera 12-2 after succumbing to Vero Beach Tuesday.

Feature of a half dozen league games this week is Belle Glade at Forest Hill on a six-game card Tuesday. Also that day Stuart is at Vero, Clewiston at Riviera, Lake Worth at Pahokee and Palm Beach at Seacrest, while Ft. Pierce visits non-league Cocoa.

Three games Thursday have Ft. Pierce at Clewiston for a conference encounter. Two non-counters match Stuart and Vero again at Stuart while Riviera visits Jupiter. Vero calls on Cocoa Friday.

Belle Glade has Ft. Pierce and rising Vero right behind it, so the Rams have no assurance of holding the lofty position unless they can hait Forest Hill. But the Falcons now have won 10 straight, haven't allowed a run in Suncoast action and must rate as the favorites. Riviera still is very much in the contention, but can't afford to lose again and faces the vital decision on its pennant hopes when Forest Hill visits next week. Next week and the following week will close out conference play.

Standings today:

This resolution passed at a called meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce with directions that a copy be spread upon the minutes, that a copy be sent to the Improvement Committee and to the local newspapers.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The meaning for today of Christ Jesus' complete triumph over the flesh will be emphasized this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Golden Text: "There is therefore now on condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" (Romans 8:1).

Real?" Related readings include this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 233):
"Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit,
as Jesus destroyed them."

For Nearly 30 Years

Tobacco farmers who try to produce a big crop without regard to cultural practices that will preserve the quality of their product may expect to find their income sharply reduced next summer.

That's the warning from the U.S. Department of Agriculture which has announced that low-quality tobacco is going to be sharply discounted from now on.

Grade standards and price supports, in process of revision for some time, will reflect quality according to present market standards and consumer preferences. Tobacco in the lower grades will be supported at a low price level.

I have word of caution for our Florida tobacco growers: Work closely with your Experiment Station and your county agricultural agent to obtain the best advice available for producing a quality crop. Use approved varieties and follow sound cultural practices. Don't try for quantity at the expense of quality.

USDA has been careful to take no position either for or against the use of MH-30 which our Florida growers contend has not caused any deterioration of quality in their crop. It points out, however, that MH-30 is only one of several factors that affect quality and, if a grower uses it, he does so at his own risk.

Cultural practices which USDA asserts have an important effect on tobacco quality include:

- (1) Improper use of fertilizer.
- (2) Excessive irrigation.
- (3) Close spacing of plants.
- (4) Harvesting immature tobacco.
- (5) Use of chemicals to control suckers.

Unless all of these practices are carried on properly, the tobacco is likely to be harmed. Particular care must be used in applying chemicals for sucker control.

So, it's up to each farmer to raise his crop in a manner that will assure the best quality. The grade of his product and the resulting support level will depend on the quality of the tobacco he markets.

Incidentally, I don't think we have heard the last of the uproar started last year by Rachel Carson's book on the dangers of using chemicals in agricultural production and disease control.

"Silent Spring" has been at the top of the non-fiction best seller list for some months, but while still among the best 10, it slipped recently to 7th place.

In Florida, all segments of the agricultural and pesticide industries have been co-operating on an educational campaign that seems to be effective in reducing greatly the hazards involved in use of agricultural chemicals. Our program, first of its kind in the nation, is being promoted in other parts of the country by the chemical industry.

Nevertheless, a considerable stir is expected to result when the report of a White House-appointed panel of specialists and scientists is published. Their job was to investigate the whole field of pesticides and insecticides. It is reported their comments are highly critical of the chemical industry. Federal agencies' administration of the laws regulating the chemicals, and carelessness on the part of agricultural producers who use them.

I wouldn't be surprised if there is a congressional investigation of the whole situation, one of these days in an effort to settle, if possible, the controversy that has been raging over whether modern agricultural practices are endangering the public health, and destroying fish and wildlife.

There's an imposing volume of evidence to support the contention that without the use of chemicals, we would not have the agricultural abundance we enjoy today.

Did you think we may be getting close to the saturation point in shopping centers?

Far from it. The International Council of Shopping Centers estimates 800 to 1,000 new centers will be built this year, bringing the total in the U.S. to 7,500.
